WAIT FOR COLD DAYS.

Fate of Some Ladies Elected Teachers Monday Night. The board of education Mondaynight elected seven teachers-one for the high school and six for the graded schools of the city. Four of the seven were among the teachers who were not recommended for re-election by the superintendent, but the board ignored the recommendations of that gentleman in this

Superintendent James has nothing to say in the case other than that the board is a bigger man than he is and that the teachers having been elected, will be assigned to places as soon as there are vacancies to be

"It will be cold weather; I speak literally and not in slang parlance," said Secretary Piper, "before some of these teachers, at least, are assigned for work. The board has already elected 285 teachers. There were 264 in the schools on the close of last year. Nine of these have resigned. A number of new rooms have been opened and as addtional teacher has been employed in the high schools. This leaves more than the number of teachers elected last night still unemployed. Of course there will be work for the teachers already elected but I imagine it will be well along in the winter before all of the teachers elected will were 9,350 pupils in the schools Cline, vice president of the Minden board of trade, in which he says: "I assure you if indications count for anything, we are now receiving the consideration of the public. The interes manifested in western Nebraska is un doubtedly giving an insight to those not members that will result in much good. Kearney county has fully demon-strated that it pays to be represented in the east during these harvest excursions with plenty of advertising matter. Our board of trade has sent three men to Illinois with 10, 000 descriptive tirculars and maps 000 descriptive tirculars and maps and one man through western Pennsyl vania, and every day brings evidence of the good work done by them. If every county would make the effort we have made, Nebraska's wonderful agricultural advantages would be known in every section of the east. That we may prosper and be able to carry out the objects of the organization all must take a hand and nelp. With the inducements offered by the railroads success is sure."

"It would seem from this," said Mr Nason, "that the people outside of Omaha have not been so slow to understand the ob-jects of our movement. I know that the newspapers are in sympathy with us, and have been publishing all the matter they could get hold of."

Ball Park Litigation.

Martin Ittner, administrator of the estate of Benjamin Ittner, has commenced an action of forcible entry and detainer in Justice Anderson's court to recover possession o what is known as tax lot 755, more commonly known as the ball park. W. S. Robinson and J. J. Hardin are the defendants, and the cause of action is alleged to be that the de-fendants agreed to pay the taxes on the property when they became due. It is property when they became due. It is claimed this has not been done. The base ball people lease from Hardin.

Judge Shields had a case on trial before him in the county court yesterday which developed quite a story. On the 6th day of last March Hans Juhl, who had been trying to buy a pair of horses from Bert Winkleman, induced the later to let him take the tesm a day or two to try it.
The purchase price was $175. Next day Juni went to Reed, the money leaner, to borrow $75 and gave him a mortgage on the horses, then made Winkleman a payment, it having been understood that $100 would be satisfactory. Learning that Juhl placed a mortgage on the an mals while trying them, Winkleman replevined them, and they were left in Con stable Stein's possession, and Reed instituted the suit against him for foreclosure of the mortgage.

A Coming Pugilistic Event. Danny Needham, of Minneapolis, and Jimmy Griffin, of St. Paul, are both anxious to come to Omaha, and have a go with Jimmy Lindsay before the Gate City Athletic club but it is doubtful whether any such match is made. It is quite possible, however, that the club members will be furnished an opportun-ity of seeing Needham and Charley Daly put up their dukes together, as the secretary is negotiating with them, and is about assured of arranging the exhibition.

Part in the Discussion. The following communication, relative to Resolutions Presented to the Cheythe protest of the North Platte Knights of Labor to Deputy Commissioner Jenkins methods of doing business, has been issued that I read an open letter in yesterday's edition of THE OMAHA BEE, addressed to you by local assembly No. 3343, Knights of Labor, of North Platte, Neb. Had the letter borne the signature of some arch enemy of labor's cause it would have been self-explanatory, but to find it endorsed by an intelligent assembly of Knights of Labor is to me well-nigh inexplicable; a reform, be the cause what it may, is never consummated until publiopinion has crystalized in its favor, and pre-sents a solid front against which the elements of error and wrong rush to their certain destruction. Public opinion is formed only by practical demonstration and incontrovertible fact, and slowly then. Now to the case in point For years our speakers writers and lecturers have claimed publicly and privately, and we have all lent our feeble voices to the same assertion, that the working man was steadily crowded into a situation where the returns for his labor would barely support animal life, and often then only under the most degrading and disgusting con-ditions, and we have as constantly asserted that if the people would establish a bureau for the investigation of these matters we would prove it by facts and figures that would simply be astounding in their conclu-siveness and bring at once to our aid the potent weapon "Public Opinion," with which we could successfully attack the foundations of any abuse, no matter how deeply grounded in our social or political fabric. The people have listened to our demand and given us the opportunity to prove our position by es-tablishing the bureau for us, when lo! at the first call for proof, the first witness we ask to testify for our cause, friend though we thought him to be, comes forward and says: "I refuse to make a statement and says: "I refuse to make a statement that will show what I spend for bread and what I spend for beer." Listen: may we not detect in that the key-note of the composition? While calling attention to the mote in the oppressors eye, may we not have over looked the beam in our own? In other words, may it not be possible that we have spent too much for beer in proportion to what we spent for bread? If so, let us what we spent for bread? If so, let us know it, that the mistakes of this year may be the wisdom of the years to come; if not, the investigation will have but added strength to our demands. It is imperative that we should be as ready to correct our own shortcomings as to call for the correc-tion of faults in others. That you have exceeded your authority or devoted your energies to a trivial matter, is to me in no wise apparent. We have repeatedly claimed through every channel that reaches the public ear that we could prove certain facts, were we given the opportunity by the cold, hard logic of verified statistics. Now that we have the opportunity in the state burean of labor, I believe your idea of the "account blank," that our North Platte friends find so objectionable, to be a thor ough, systematic and comprehensive method workingman has with which to purchase either bread or beer or education, or any one of a thousand things that mark the contrast of the human being and the brute. Your critics say, "You are directed by law especially to examine into the relations be tween capital and labor, and herein is opened ip a tremendous field for the exercise of you talents as a statistician, and, in short we conceive it to be our business to gathe production and distribution of wealth in this state." How it would be possible to devise a more simple, rational and successful means of collating and compiling the very informa tion called for in the above extracts, than by means of the blank you have prepared and sent out, and which is criticized so severely by L. A. 3343, is, I must confess, beyond my comprehension.

That your efforts, in the direction you have taken, are judicious and will result in posi-tive advantage to all labor in the state, organized or unorganized, is to me a self-evi-dent fact, and I look forward with mucl hope for the day when labor forces will all be your assistants in your work, and the only dissensions be found in the broken and dismembered ranks of labor's enemies.

Western States Passenger Association Liable to Disruption.

CHAIRMAN ABBOTT THE CAUSE.

Three Roads' Refuse to Recognize Any Other Head, While the Remaining Nineteen Insist on Secretary Thompson.

Western States Passenger Troubles. CHICAGO, Sept. 10.- | Special Telegram to THE BEE !- At least a temporary split is imminent in the Western States Passenger association. The Rock Island, Wisconsin Central and the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City refuse to acknowledge any head of the association except Chairman Abbott. The other nineteen roads, except a few which are on the fence, refuse to acknowledge any head except Secretary Thompson. The three roads express a firm intention of at least allowing Mr. Abbott to resign, and the others are as determined not to give him that privilege.

The whole affair is a most unfortunate one and peculiarly embarrassing to Mr. Abbott. As general passenger agent of the Erie he made a national reputation, and since his arrival in Chicago he has constantly added to the list of his friends. It is impossible to tell how the complication will end.

The War Ended.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The cut-throat passenger war between the Pennsylvania and the Monon is ended. The terms were agreed to yesterday in Cincinnati, and were told to-day to your representative by General Passenger Agent Barker, of the Monon. "The Pennsylvania," said he, "demanded as the price of settlement the retirement from sale of all 1,000-mile $20 tickets. This we were re luctantly forced to grant, as the only alternative was to keep up a hopeless and losing fight against the immense Pennsylvania sys-tem. The settlement will hurt our com-mercial trade, but we to-day put on sale a $25 1,000-mile ticket which may help. The low rates will be continued for the present.

Weary of the Burden. CHICAGO, Sept. 10 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- The Western Freight association has become weary of bearing the bur den of the critical situation in the northwest and to-day saddled it back on the presidents of the lines in the later-State Commerce association. It will be remembered that the presidents at their last meeting requested the Western Freight association to attempt to secure the co-operation of the trunk lines and Central Traffic associations in quoting through rates from the seaboard to St. Paul This co-operation has been decidedly re-fused, and now the freight men want the presidents to father their own but rather disfigured child. The whole matter was referred to the presidents with the re quest that they report back their conclusion on Thursday. Meantime the Burlington & Northern agrees to curb its insatiate desire to compete with the Canadian Pacific for Northwestern through business. It still insists that it will compete, however and, as already shown in these dispatches, it cannot do so unless at a reduction of 75 per cent on the present basis of rates, then the Canadian Pacific and "Soo" have the upper hand. They threaten, if the Burlington & Northern meets its present rates, to make the rate from the scabbard to St. Paul the same as those now in effect from the seaboard to Chicago. This move will absolutely shut out the Chicago roads and merchants from northwestern business It is shrewdly hinted that the Chicago reads would not be sorry at this result, as then they could demand of congress protection from Canadian competition.

The Western Freight association also took up the Alton's notice of reduction in live stock rates from Kansas City to Chicago from 22% to 18 cents, and referred it to the southwestern division to report back at the present session. It is not thought the reduction will be made.

World's Fair Railroad Facilities. CHICAGO, Sept. 10.- Special Telegram to THE BEE !- The railroad managers interested in the world's fair met this morning in the rooms of the Western Freight association. Mr. E. T. Jeffery tendered his resignation, as he is no longer connected with the Illinois Central road. The managers. however, passed a resolution to the effect that, masmuch as Mr. Jeffery's ser vices have been so satisfactory, they would decline to consider his resignation. A committee was appointed to suggest to the dif ferent railroads what portion of the allotted amount each railroad should subscribe. committee consists of E. St. John, of the Rock Island; J. C. Peasely, of the 'Q; John Newell, of the Lake Shore; James Me Crea, of the Pennsylvania; and J. M. What man, of the Northwestern.
Secretary Crogin asked the managers i they would give some assurance that the railroads would give ample facilities for people to reach the fair grounds, and was informed that every facility for landing visitors could be relied upon. Every one at Every one at the meeting expressed himself as in hearty sympathy with having the fair in Chicago

Three factories in this city have already started and it is certain the rest of them commence work in a few days, house at Streator, Ili, and a bottle house at St. Louis also been started. The trouble between the green bottle men and the manufacturers was caused by the latter proposing a 10 per cent reduction in wages.
